WHAT’S DUE THIS WEEK?

Student of the Week – Rachel Bibby

Rachel has earned the title of student of the week this week for her overall effort and achievement in and out of the classroom. Rachel has worked hard to improve her touch football skill and technique in time for the game next Tuesday. She also listened carefully to instructions and worked independently on her ‘Hero’ speech but was happy to listen to feedback and take on advice when required.

Rachel also had some good responses during class discussions which were wonderful to see. Congratulations and keep up the terrific work, Rachel!

Education Week

“Celebrating Local Heroes”

Last Thursday we celebrated Education Week with a sausage sizzle, assembly, speech competition, open classrooms and tree planting in our bush regeneration area.

Students presented speeches highlighting their heroes including their parents, grandparents, armed forces, rescue workers, animals who help people and many others. Our winners were K-3 Sophie Anderson and 4-5 Jack Sumpter-Cornish. Rachel Bibby received a special Education Week Award. Congratulations!

Students showed parents and families how clever they are by reading to them, playing a maths game together and showing other work they have done.
